A Report on One day National Seminar

On

“Global Economic Outlook: Resilience & Sustainability of Indian Economy”

School of Management

Economic literacy gives people the tools for understanding their economic world and how to interpret events that will either directly or indirectly affect them. Nations benefit from having an economically literate population because it improves the public's ability to comprehend and evaluate critical issues. This understanding is especially important in democracies that rely on the active support and involvement of its citizens. It is not only important for businessmen, economists, industrialists but also for aspiring managers and entrepreneurs.

With this objective School of Management organized the second one day national seminar on “Global Economic Outlook: Resilience & Sustainability of Indian Economy” in the university premises on 30-04-2016.

The Chief Guest of the occasion was Ms. Alka Batra, Director AGEIS, founding member of Association of Women Entrepreneurs (AWE) and past Chairperson of FICCI FLO (2015-16).
