Report of "Seminar On Effective Utilization Of Social/Professional Networking Sites"

On 10th February 2017, Department of Mechanical Engineering, Poornima University organized a seminar on "Effective Utilization Of Social/Professional Networking Sites". The 3 hours seminar was taken by Mr. Abhinav Shekhar in OLE lab of Poornima University from 1:10 PM to 4 PM. The purpose of seminar was to create awareness among students on effective utilization of professional networking sites such as LinkedIn, Blogger, Freelancer, etc. by presenting their skills and knowledge. There is also a hand on practice session on these sites. On LinkedIn students create their own professional account and they get to know about how to use LinkedIn. Students also follow some CEOs of many engineering company. At last of the session students learned how to write formal mail by writing feedback to coordinator.
